HIS LAST HOPE FOR LIFE SWEPT AWAY THIS MORNING.

Justice Patterson Decides Adversely on His Appeal, and He Will Meet His Doom Next Tuesday-The Sad News Carried to Lyons by His Lawyer and an "Evening World" Reporter-Lyons Tries Hard to Bear Up and Is Posigned.

The last ray of hope for Danny Lyons has faded away, and if he lives until next Tuesday he will suffer the penalty fixed by law for the killing of Athlete Joseph Quinn. Judge Patterson, in the Supreme Court Chambers this morning, handed down a decision denying the application for a stay of execution pending an appeal to the General

In his decision the Judge reviews the case from the trial in the General Sessions. Continuing, His Honor says:

After the warrant for the execution was given to the Sheriff the prisoner filed a notice of appeal from the original conviction and judgment to the General Term of this Court, and now applies to this Court upon a writ of habeas corpus claiming that the fixing of the date of execution by the Recorder was without authority of law, and that the Court of General Seasons had no jurisdiction to name the day for the infliction of the death penalty, and asked the interposition of the Court to stay his execution upon the ground stated.

The contention of the prisoner is based upon certain sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and it is claimed that those sections operate to vest an exclusive authority in certain courts named therein to fix a day for the carrying out of a sentence in a capital case under the obsummances mentioned, and that the Court of General Sessions had no jurisdiction whatever.

Judge Patterson then refers to the sections in question, and in conclusion says:

in question, and in conclusion says:

it seems to me from a general consideration of the whole case that the existing jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to sit in review or appeal in a criminal case is atogether statutory and not a part of the inherent general jurisdiction offithe Supreme Court, and that it was entirely competent for the Legislature to take away the jurisdiction which it had conferred upon the Supreme Court, and I therefore must decline to grant the stay of proceedings in this case.

It may be added that the Court of Appeals has passed upon and decided at least four capital cases taken there by direct appeal under the provisions of the section referred to and it is hardly conceivable that Court would have taken jurisdiction if there was any reasonable doubt of the constitutionality of the law.

An EVENING WORLD reporter was the first to inform ex-Judge Blake, Lyons's counsel, of the adverse decision, and together they proceeded to the Tombs. Under Sheriffs Kaufman and Burke were sitting outside Danny's cell and two Sisters of Charity were comforting the doomed man. As his lawyer and the reporter came up Danny advanced and, extending his hand, said:

I see by your faces that the decision is arainst me."

"Yes. Danny, the Court has decided against us," replied the lawyer.

This was said with an air of resignation, and the young man made no show of bra-

In spite of the terrible news Lyons was cheerful, and when the Sisters left, knelt devoutly before the little crucifix in his cell and prayed for half an hour.

If ever mortal man felt like kicking at defeat it was yesterday. To have Capt. Adrian Anson and his colts leave this town with a DANNY LYONS MUST HANG. record of two games won and the third a tie was harder for the New Yorks to bear than all the season's defeats rolled into one.

Tuesday's loss was bad enough; but yesterday-to be beaten by two miserable little runs, and to accept nine goose eggs when thirteen men were left on bases—capped the horrible climax,

horrible climax,
And what was wanting for victory? The Giants played a faultless game in the field and made nearly double the number of hits scored by their opponents. Nine hits, in this,
a pitchers' year, is ordinarily a winning number, but not if, as yesterday, they be scattered throughout seven innings, and not if, as yesterday, with men on bases, succeeding batters hit the ball up in the air or strike out.

Bunched hits win games-just as surely as errors lose them; but successive base hits can't always be had, be they wanted never so

Bunched hits win games-just as surely as errors lose them; but successive base hits can't always be had, be they wanted never so badly.

The Giants for the past five or six weeks have been bunching their hits, have been sacrificing opportunity and have, therefore, been winning games. Yesterday they failed in all of these, and consequently lost. And if the Giants lost the game through ineffective batting then surely Mr. Baldwin, of Chicago, won the contest by effective pitching at critical moments.

If the score had been reversed and the Giants had won in the same manner as did Chicago, all the town would have sung the praises of the man who pitched for Gotham. As it is the Giants' batsmen are blamed and no credit is given the opposing twiler.

But the people in this town want the Giants to earn games from every pitcher who is opposed to them. There is no doubt but that the Giants, too, desire to do that very thing. A large factor in winning games is confidence. Confidence causes more base hits than any other one circumstance and oftentimes a very little thing gives a man confidence. In baseball a penny found "heads up," the presence of a massot, the absence of a cross-eyed boy, or a load of empty barrels causes a player to feel sure of hitting the ball and of winning the game.

If this, then, is true, and it is as Anson says, the Giants have again lost their grip on sand (which is confidence).

What is the matter with hurrying along those testimonial bats, and, by showing the boys that the public has not lost one jot of its confidence in themselves, and so cheer them on to further victories and the surely coming championship.

Hard-Worked Girls in Clonk and Shir Factories-A Shop Where Girls Can't Speak English-Marion Preston Discharged by a Foreign Overscer for Telling the Truth-Labor Testimony.

Congressmen Ford, Oates, Spinola and Guenther, of the Special Committee on Immigration, continued their investigation at the Westminster Hotel to-day.

Julius Oppenheimer, manufacturer of Isdies' and children's cloaks and suits in East Broadway, was the first witness. He testified that he employed 150 people during the busy season, but in June, July and August employed less than a hundred. The employees are equally divided between the sexes. Eleven years ago, when he began business, he employed three-fourths women and one-fourth men. Wages are now 10 or 12 per cent, lower than then.

The work is piecework. The market for the goods is lower. There are more people seeking work now than heretofore. In the busy season there are not hands enough.

Marion Preston had been employed by Op penheimer, and the latter acknowledged that she had been discharged for testifying before the committee. He explained that Wilinski, the man who runs the shop, was a very excit-able man, and when he saw her testimony in the paper he was mad and discharged her. Wilinski is a member of the firm. Con-cerning Miss Preston's testimony, Mr. Op-penheimer said the only thing in it that was not true was that she testified that she was an axyest hand when she really was not He

Mr. Oppenheimer said he gave no preference to men over women, and that he employed by preference Russians. Poles and Bohemians, and that most of his employed.

Bohemians, and that most of his employees could speak no English. "Then, you really discharged Marion Preston because she told the truth!" ejaculated Congressman Guenther, and the witness nodded, adding that Wilinski was mad because Miss Preston mocked his broken English. He could not say whether Miss Freston earned $10 a week four years ago or not but the earns only $4 years. not, but she earns only $4 now.

Mr. Ford said he didn't care about examining any one else from Mr. Oppenheimer's factory. He was quite satisfied—and dis

"Sixteen years ago a good steady girl would earn from $8 to $11 a week. She can earn that now," said Mr. Stern. "but 1 got $40 a dozen for shitts then and only $18 now. Workers were scarce(sixteen years ago, but now there is a gird of them."

"I want to say," said Mr. Stern, "that the statement of Mary Berg is a manufactured lie from beginning to end. She was an agitator, I kept her from charity. "To what do you attribute the surplus of laborers over the demand?" asked Mr. Ford.

"Ithink it is because so many foreign work-people come over. Besides, labor agitation has driven the white shirt manufacture out of New York, and if it keeps up the flannel shirt business will leave the city, too.

of Labor, which is an organization of skilled labor.

Mr. Gompers told in detail of 'the various labor organizations and their provinces.

Since 1880 Mr. Gompers has been a close watcher of the influx of foreign immigrants into America. He believes that the effect of the large immigration has been very depressing to trade and the wage-market.

"Had this immigration been natural," said Mr. Gompers, "not unhealthily and improperly stimulated, the newcomers would soon have been assimilated and become a part of us."

have been assimilated and become a part of us."

He instanced the case of the great cigar-makers strike at Milwaukee in 1881, when agents went to Austria and advertised for workers, resulting in an influx of thousands of pauper laborers. The advertisements pictured Milwaukee, her pretty homes and her prosperous workers in gorgeous terms, and led the Austrians to believe that in Milwaukee was comfort, ease and riches.

In 1883 the same means were resorted to by a New York firm whose men went on strike, and cigar-makers flocked to America rom Germany. This according to the witness, was aided by the American Consul in Ger-Germany. This, according to the witness, was sided by the American Consul in Ger-

"In 1883, when the tyrannous acts of the Russian Government against the Polish Jews was exciting the pity of the whole world, capitalists and charitably inclined Americans contributed handsomely to bring the sufferers over to the free soil of America. When they had arrived here in thousands these capitalists employed them at 30 to 50 per cent. less than the market, and discharged their American workmen. I cannot recall the American workmen. I cannot recall the names of these capitalists, but they were tailors, tailor manufacturers, cigar manufac-turers, furniture manufacturers and shirt

They go to 'school' two or three weeks and are then turned adrift as cigarmakers. Their work as pupils is sold in the market in competition with cigars for the manufacture of which workmen are paid.

"To any man of Europe who would come to America to better his condition, intending to become a citizen and coming of his own volition, I would be among the first to extend the hand of welcome," said Mr. Gompers. "But I do object to this unhealthy, assisted immigration as inimical to our welfare and prosperity." "As a result of stimulated emigration there

A Dream of Fair Women.

A Dream of Fair Women.

Tennyson in his exquisite poem, dreams of a long procession of lovely women of ages past. This is all very well, but the laureate would have done the world a greater service if he had only told the women of the present how they could improve their health and enhance their charms. This he might easily have done by recommending the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Health is the best friend of beauty, and the innumerable ills to which women are peculiarly subject its worst enemies. Long experience has proven that the health of womankind and the "Favorite Prescription" walk hand in hand and are inseparable. It is the only medicine for women sold by drug_ists under a positive quaruntee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refuseded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.

AN AGED COUPLE'S PERIL.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1888.

Nearly Sufficented by Smoke in a Burning Building.

The Trinity Church corporation is the owner of the property, 529 Greenwich street and two lots in its rear on Vandam street. The Greenwich street lot is occupied by an ancient two-and-a-half-story Dutch-roof structure of wood. Preparatory to building on these lots the tenants were served with notice to vacate, and all but Peter Welsie and his wife, an aged couple, had vacated.

These two occupied a room on the attic floor. At 3 o'clock this morning fire was disfloor. At 8 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the building. There was little fire and it was confined to the ground floor. But the smoke was dense and Welsie and his wife were rescued from their beds by the firemen. They had not awakened and were slightly affected by the smoke. They were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. Their escape from death by suffocation was narrow. The fire was extinguished with but little damage.

SEPT. 12, BUFFALO.

Time and Place of the Democratic State Convention.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.

The meeting of the Democratic State Committee was announced for 11 o'clock this morning in the Grand Union Hotel, but there was the usual delay.

John Wiley, of Buffalo, familiarly known among the Black Horse Cavalry in Albany as "Jock" Wiley, had sat up all night trying to persuade members of the State Committee to name Buffalo as the place for holding the State convention, and the hotel proprietors of Saratoga would have gladly dumped him into the lake if they could have coaxed him there.

appeared in the corridors of the Grand Union Hotel, and declared that the committee would positively agree upon Buffalo as the place for the convention.

Mr. Wiley slyly insunated that Gov. Hill's the State Convention be held on Sept. 12.

This was agreed to.

Then Mr. Stewart moved that the convention be held in Saratoga.

Gen. Peter C. Doyle moved that the convention should be held in Buffalo.

Sheriff Grant urged that Saratoga should be selected as the place, as the hotel accommodations in Buffalo are in-ufficient.

Gen. Doyle said that it was not a question of hotel accommodations with them. It was a question of politics with his people.

the Aldermen to pass such an ordinance. Mayor Hewitt has notified the company that he will sign the ordinance as soon as he returns from his vacation, thereby making it a law, so the directors hastened to take

When that reply comes the resolutions will be made public.

Secretary McLean received an Evening World reporter very courteously this morning. He said:

"Ever since the present directors came into power in the company, which was about a year ago, they have been studying and looking with a view to improving our system. We all favor the application of electricity as a motive power, and we have been making the closest study of the methods of its application, heping to find a way to propel our cars by the force which would be entirely satisfactory to the public and ourselves.

You can say we will do what is right in the matter."
Charles Leary, brother of President Arthur
